PAULSBERG is a young designers collective formed by Knut Krowas, Mark Offermann and Lars Schmieder. Despite, or rather because of their different backgrounds they share their aspiration for innovativity with each other. Since 2011 they officially work together as Paulsberg. Lars, a graduate in business management, keeps the motors running while Mark, the scenographer and Knut, the designer, are responsible for product development. Their furniture collection consist of tables and chairs manufactured out of carbonfibre-reinforced concrete. Paulsberg's strengths lie within their imaginativeness and their scenic way of thought. Paulsberg develop furniture as well as spacial concepts and campaigns. The emphasis of their work lies within scenography, product design and furniture design.
